

Call for Veterinary Case Studies

Thieme invites submissions of original veterinary case studies for publication on MedOne Vet, our comprehensive knowledge platform for veterinary medicine.

Who Can Submit

We welcome case studies from:

- Advanced DVM students
- Veterinary residents
- Veterinary researchers
- Veterinary school faculty
- Practicing veterinary professionals

Publication Details

- Case length: 1,000–2,500 words
- Languages accepted: English and Spanish
- Submitted cases are reviewed within 3 weeks
- Accepted cases will be published within 5 business days
- Author credit: All accepted cases are fully credited on MedOne Vet

Purpose of the Cases

Submitted cases should:

- Document real-world clinical experience
- Serve as an educational resource for DVM students, practitioners, and educators

Compensation

- $300 for first accepted case ($600 if submitted in both English and Spanish)
- $200 for each subsequent case study

Topic Areas

Case studies may address any aspect of veterinary medicine, including but not limited to:

- Animal welfare
- Zoonotic diseases
- Animal population management
- Clinical and diagnostic challenges
- Emerging issues in veterinary practice

Get Started

To learn more or express interest:

- Complete the MedOne Vet Case Submission Interest Form

An editorial advisor will contact you shortly to discuss next steps.

